ROSELY

In this, THE PITCHFORK of 1961, we, the Senior Class, present a picture of our Today, our school year. We glimpse back nostalgically and think of our years at Pikeville. This year marks the last of many years as a high school at Pikeville. May we look on this day as one of joy and satisfaction that we have helped make this school a little bit better.

PRIMARY BUILDING - In this building in September of 1949, the school career of many of us began. This building is the home of the first grades, second grade, and third grade. Also, in this building many hours of hard practice have been put in by many of our Seniors who played basketball, for in here is also the gymnasium.

LUNCHROOM - A very pleasant place to eat in this year with an improved floor, a new paint job, and drapes (made by the home ec. girls), is the lunchroom. A variety of good meals is placed before us each day by the excellent cooks under the supervision of Mrs. Sullivan.

AGRICULTURE BUILDING - Sawdust and scrap wood are familiar sights in here, but don't fret, they don't stay there long. Mr. Croom always keeps that stop "Spic 'n' Span." The ways of a good farmer have been learned by many here under the excellent supervision of Mr. Croom.

In this hallowed building we have spent some of the happiest moments of our lives. We remember those days that seemed would never end, and those which flew by so quickly. We remember each desk with its names carved or written on every inch of space; and the blackboards where all our knowledge was at one time written; and the halls, where by the radiators (if only they could talk) many hours of courting have been spent.

Comorrow

We look forward to the future with high hopes and dreams of much success in all our undertakings. It is a future made brighter and more prosperous by our education here at Pikeville. We look to a better future and better education for our children through the new school, Charles B. Aycock High School, which will begin operation next year (Picture of the school above).

In Memoriam

It is not how long, but how well we live.

SILAS

That drizzly night in September when the life of our classmate, Silas Pender, was taken in an auto accident will long be remembered. Many other things will also be remembered about Silas: his joking ways, always making others happy; his moments of deep sincerity; his efforts to make the best, better; that shock of hair that never seemed to stay in place; his sly laugh; and special things of remembrance which are personal to each of us. May we use his life as a model and make our life better.

NANCY

I can see her now as she stood before the easel with her paint blotched apron and those ringlets, each falling in its special place. Yes, Nancy was quite an artist and an honor student, too. Her happy life came to a watery end as she and her sister, Paula Jean, were drowned in Lake Waccamaw.

BILLY

We are reminded of a bouncing, typical boy when we think of Billy, with his touselled blonde hair and angelic smile. His mischievous ways are remembered in a happy way. Little did we realize, as we left school the last day in the first grade, that it would be the last time we would see Billy, for that afternoon he was electrocuted on an electric fence.

Lunchroom Staff

We owe a great deal to our wonderful lunchroom and its workers. They have been very patient with us, even during our moments of harassment. The delicious meals which they have served to us will be long remembered. The appearance of the lunchroom has been greatly improved by the lovely drapes and picture which were added this year.

Activities

The Pitchfork

We, the members of the annual staff, have put forth much effort and have had "brain storms" upon "brain storms" while trying to complete the PITCHFORK before our deadline. We hope all this work will be appreciated because we have strived to make this annual the very best, since this will be the last PITCHFORK. We are filled with happiness because our goal has been reached, but there is also a sigh of regret that accompanies our happiness.

F.H.A. BEAU OF 1961 Mr. John Milton Jones

The Future Homemakers of America is an organization in which the girls prepare themselves to better the homemaker's vocation. The girls are trained in sewing and cooking, and for any emergencies that may occur in the home. The girls work hard preparing for their annual Mother-Daughter Banquet. An F. H. A. Beau is elected by the members. After the sewing course has been completed the girls have a fashion show in order to show the new clothes they made. Some of the fortunate ones receive a prize for their sewing while the other girls are just satisfied with being able to present their clothes on the stage.

Future Farmers of America

President-Dickie Elmore; Vice-President-John Jones; Secretary-Everett Davis; Treasurer-Bill Britt

Sentinel-Earl Tyndall; Reporter-Kenneth Smith; Advisor-Mr. H. G. Croom, Jr.

The Future Farmers of America is an organization of farm boys working together to better the vocation of farming. We try to do this in many ways. During the past year we sponsored a local Agriculture Fair. The fair was a big success and enjoyed by all. A Bar-B-Que Dinner and a pancake supper made it a scrumptious affair. A parade through Pikeville was the highlight of the day.

In addition to special projects, such as the fair, the F.F.A. has an annual Father-Son Banquet, elects a Sweetheart, and takes part in many of the Federation Contests.

School Life

April, 1960 - Junior-Senior

Man, blow that hom! At our banquet, we had a first-class band.

"I crown thee, King Junior-Senior!"
John Milton and Linda did the honors of crowning Shelton and Peggy.

Here's to the coolest waiters and waitresses a Junior-Senior ever had.

Parties, Parties, Parties of The Year!

Who are these wild characters? No, they are not the Martians or escaped convicts. They're just enjoying a masquerade party at Diane's.

Sick? Maybe in the head, but really, they are one of the numerous pajama parties that the girls like so much.

Dig that crazy partner. This recalls the Basketball Party at the Parrish House. Garner and Daughter, Inc.

Practice Makes Perfection

The girls are at it again. They need a lot of practice, so keep at it, girls.

Singing (Singing?) requires practice as this famous trio practices away for some great T.V. Show.

In The Garden of Dreams - Miss Pikeville

Buddy, have a drink! These nervous girls need just that. So Diane and Laraine took time out for refreshments

A pause for a pose. Aren't they a beautiful group? They're the "cream of the crop" here at Pikeville (In looks, that is).

We present to you the three finalist: left to right; Laraine Blow, Susie Sasser, and Branda Hicks. They were nervous, too.

School Capers

Lovers, lovers. Pikeville has its share, by the radiators, and in Those F.H.A. initiations are the most, but we can't say much for the looks of the Freshman girls that week.

Screwballs all. This bunch of hombres is clowning on top of the shelter. Don't let Mr. Russell catch you!

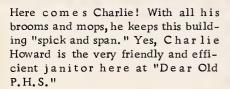

"Hot Rodder James" comes zooming down the hall as girls scatter in fright of his terrible driving. (Ha! He's not really that bad a driver.)

In the beginning . . .

This is really a beginning, is it not? This isn't a baby as it would appear, its just you-know-who dressed for a "Womanless Wedding." Get with that bottle, boy!

We were ugly back then, and many of us haven't changed. Some of us have changed for the worse.

At top is that good-looking bunch from Belfast in the Third Grade. Recognize any of them?

At the bottom is that equally beautiful crowd from Pikeville. We were in the First Grade and what a beginning!

When the books close, and the last bell rings,
And carefree days are lost to mundane thingsWhen nostalgia strikes, and your memory wanes,
And you remember the faces but not the namesPick up your yearbook and leaf it through,
And remember the days so dear to you.
